

It also indicated its availability to continue working with the United Nations system and the High Commissioner for Human Rights. To that end, the Government mentioned it would continue working

